Plans Complete for Police and Firemen's Benefit Show Tomorrow

There are only a few days left in which to buy tickets for the Annual Police and Firemen's Assn. Benefit show which is to be staged at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening, Oct. 1, warned Serg. Bill Evans of the police department and program chairman of the event. For convenience of public two performances are to be given, one commencing at 7 and the other at 9:30 p.m.

According to Evans, the sale of tickets has been most gratifying, but there are plenty yet available.

A board of education ruling prohibits the sale of tickets on school property. However, a temporary booth will be set up near by for convenience of late comers. Police and firemen, however, are urging those who do not have tickets now to contact any member of the departments before the performance begins.

The usual high-class talent has been obtained for this year's show but with many new added features, Serg. Evans asserts. These have been obtained through Neil Abel, representing the Walter H. Trask Theatrical Agency. Abel has been responsible for procurement of the high grade performances staged by the police and firemen here in the past.

Acts of sufficient variety and type to please the most exacting are to be featured with one of the most versatile figures in the theatrical profession acting as master of ceremonies. He is none other than Mickey Gifford, who also is providing one of the ten acts which go to make up the program.

The Hughes Trio, formerly a quartet before one of the group was inducted into the armed forces. The trio is rated as one of the outstanding groups of young vocalists. Others having parts in the performance are Britt Wood comedy genius. He is described as a prolific laugh producer and must be seen in action to be appreciated. Johnson & Diehl, comedy jugglers, are sure to give the audience some thrills. Other acts making up the show include: Buck & Chickie, western roping duo; Lee Don, novelty pianist; Mickey Doll, a tap stylist; Billy Morrel trio, comedy skaters; Monroe Jonkers and his orchestra, and a hilarious windup by Mickey Gifford and his partner of the team of Gifford & Pearl.

All servicemen in uniform will be admitted to the show at half price, Serg. Evans said.

You'll always be glad you bought those War Bonds . . . and so will the boys!

Townsend Club No 1
By BETH PAIGE

Our club's fine business meeting last Friday evening was very much like "old times." The report of the finance committee was received with satisfaction.

All clubs are getting keyed up, literally for the coming "concert-contest" to be held by the Redondo Townsend clubs Oct. 4. Our club is expected to compete.

The club has received a shipment of Dr. Townsend's latest book, "New Horizons," a story of his life. It was voted to present a copy to the Torrance library.

Tomorrow evening's social will be featured by the usual games. The picnic is cordially invited.

New 'Safety' Shoe Ruling by OPA Out

Of interest to this community are the "safety" shoe ration stamps issued by an employer to a worker which must be marked on the face explaining the purpose for which they were issued, according to a recent O.P.A. ruling. Ration boards must mark similarly all special shoe stamps they issue.

Special Deer Hunt Boundaries Will be Made Known Oct. 8

Dates and boundaries of a special 30-day deer hunt will be announced Oct. 8, the State Fish and Game Commission announces.

Commissioners deferred the announcement to permit further check in northern counties of depredations or overpopulation, on which the hunt will be based.

An eight-day elk season in Inyo county Dec. 4-12, was approved. The hunt will be limited to 75 bulls and guns of at least 30 calibre.

An archery deer shoot in the Malibu area during the 30-day special season was approved.

Meanwhile, the commission reported good prospects for the current season which opened earlier this week and will run until Oct. 15.

There has been plenty of food and water for the deer this year, the commission said, and the animals are fat and well-scattered throughout a great part of Northern California.

Army and Navy leather requirements this year are expected to call for more than 190 million cattle hides, 2 million calfskins, 8 million shearlings, and hundreds of thousands of lambskins and horsehides.

Local Markets Must Post Grades, Prices, Points on Meats

The local ration board has mailed letters addressed to the various operators of meat markets in this area, calling attention to recent O.P.A. directives relative to posting prices of meats placed on display, the required red or brown stamps required in making purchases and the grades of meats offered for sale.

It was announced that very few complaints have been made concerning local market operators and that there is a disposition on their part to faithfully comply with regulations.

After about 3 days, it was said, there will be a checkup of the markets to determine how well the latest directives are being carried out.
